

Winning - Starter Resource

Australia have won the T20 World Cup for the 6th time since 2010

Below you will find examples of other teams who have dominated a sport over a number of years

New Zealand
were number 1
in the rugby
world rankings
for almost 10
years

Australia
won 6
netball
world cups between 1991-2019

Liverpool
were league
champions
10 times
between 1976-1990

As a player/performer are you happy to always be on the winning side? Why?

As a spectator do you prefer your team to always be on the winning side? Why?

Can you see any negatives for a sport which is dominated by a winning team or individual for a long time?

'Serial winners' have to be highly motivated to be successful in sport. What do you think motivates such teams and individuals?